

Call for Travel Award Application

The 38th Annual Meeting of Japan Neuroscience Society (Neuroscience 2015) will be held at Kobe Convention Center, in Kobe, Japan, from July 28th to 31st, 2015.

Neuroscience 2015 offers Travel Awards to the non-Japanese students and post-docs traveling from abroad to present high quality papers at the meeting. The funding for travel will be between 40,000-150,000 JPY per award depending on the travel distance. The awardees will also be exempt from the registration fee of the meeting. Those from Asian-Pacific countries are particularly encouraged.

- ◆ The Japan Neuroscience Society (JNS) was founded in 1974. Since then, the membership has increased steadily. With more than 6,000 members in 2014, JNS is now a representative academic society in neuroscience in Japan.
- ◆ Neuroscience 2015 under the theme of “Back to Basics for Future Neuroscience,” provides a unique opportunity to forge closer links between researchers in different fields and to develop next-generation neuroscientists endowed with a wide perspective.
- ◆ We will also focus our efforts on promoting interaction with relevant professional neuroscience societies in neighboring Asia-Pacific countries, the United States and Europe by organizing joint symposia and providing a financial assistance program to cover travel costs.
- ◆ All travel award winners are invited to the International Exchange Meeting for Young Researchers and a get-together party on the day before the Annual Meeting to facilitate interaction among young researchers from abroad and Japan. In addition, they will be invited to a reception during the Annual Meeting.
- ◆ The Annual Meeting aims at fostering young scientists and promoting collaboration across the globe and various scientific fields including clinical neuroscience. We expect approximately 4,000 participants, including 400 people from overseas.
- ◆ The Meeting will be held in Kobe Port Island, which is close to Kansai International Airport.

Application deadline: January 15th, 2015.
